

JACINTA TOBIN

CHIEF REVENUE OFFICER

Jacinta leads the global sales, business development and customer support teams for LeoLabs. She has over 20 years of experience leading global growth, combining sales, marketing, business development, and customer support for technology companies in both commercial and defense sectors. Jacinta's prior roles include SVP, Global Sales and Business Development and CMO at Cloudmark (acquired by Proofpoint), VP Global Operations at the Cloudmark Division of Proofpoint (acquired by Thoma Bravo), CRO at Twistlock (acquired by Palo Alto Networks), and a strategic management consulting role at Cap Gemini.

Jacinta has been a long-term board member of global cyber defense working groups including MAAWG, which fosters collaboration among international government intelligence agencies and tech and media giants such as Google and META. She was named as one of the top 50 most influential women in technology by Silicon Valley Global magazine.
